Mediation skills: positive and active attitude, aspects of intra- and inter-cultural dialogue were determined by experience as a member of work teams and project coordinator

Skills acquired in the workplace

Skills in Electronics, Remote Control, Virtual Instrumentation, Microcontroller Systems, IDEAS, AutoCAD, Lola, LabVIEW, AFM / SNOM, DAQ, Educational Systems (NOVA 5000, NI ELVIS, Cypress), Vacuum and Low Temperature Equipment, and so on

Computer skills

Skills in computer configuration, organization of computer networks (I coordinated several NATO projects through which I created the University's Internet network) use of Microsoft applications, operating systems, computer programming, assisted design and graphics programming (LabVIEW, VEE-Pro, etc.)

other skills

Teaching skills acquired through postgraduate courses and specializations and proven through publications and research activities at national and international level.

Driving license Category B driving licenseOrganizational / managerial skills

The projects, contracts and grants conducted during the period 1977-2019 at the IESC faculty provided the necessary competence to coordinate groups of specialists in achieving the objectives of these projects. The activity as a specialization coordinator at Physical Engineering completed my competence with the organizational side in the didactic field. The ability to organize large groups of people has been demonstrated by the organization of many national and international conferences and the IAOE International Association. Locally - nationally - the coordination of the CVTC Center, the Creativity Laboratory, the Noise and Fluctuation Laboratory and the LabVIEW and CISCO Academies completes the wide range of competencies.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION - SCIENTIFIC ACTIVITY

PATENTS

In collaboration with a team of doctors, I worked on the construction of installations for the production and detection of negative ions in the air (Patent of invention no. 81655 / 31.08.1981), in which the owner became in 1983 the Electrocontact Botořani Enterprise.
